Superior, Wis., Sept. 16.—(UP)—Richard Bloxham, of Superior, an ambulance driver, today conveyed the mangled body of his brother to a hospital, unaware of his relationship to the dead man.

Thomas Bloxham, aged 34 years, father of two children, was caught in a belt in the elevator shaft of the Northern Pacific ore docks and dragged to the top. His left arm was torn from its socket and his body almost decapitated.

Apparently he had arrived at work early, for his watch had stopped at 6:45 A. M. and when other workmen arrived at 7 A. M. they saw the body hanging at the top of the shaft but were afraid to release it.

The mate of a nearby steamer climbed up the slim posts of the shaft, brought it to the ground and loaded it into the ambulance driven by Richard Bloxham.

FALLS, HIT IN NECK BY BIRD SHOT

MINNEAPOLIS PARTY SAID TO HAVE DELIBERATELY AIMED AT THE DOCTOR

Fergus Falls, Minn., Sept. 16.—(UP)—The opening of the duck hunting season in Minnesota resulted today in the serious wounding of Dr. T. S. Paulson of Fergus Falls, one of a party of three from Fergus Falls, the members of which went on a trip to the vicinity of Elbow Lake early today.

The charge of birdshot that wounded Dr. Paulson was declared by members of Dr. Paulson's party to have been fired deliberately by one of a party of six said to have been from Minneapolis.

The shot struck Dr. Paulson in the neck. After the shooting the Minneapolis party is said to have fled the scene.

According to Dr. Paulson's companions, the shooting followed a quarrel between the Fergus Falls and Minneapolis parties. One of the physician's friends went to Elbow Lake with the intention of swearing out a warrant charging "intent to kill" and enlisting the aid of authorities in capturing the person said to have done the shooting.

Dr. Paulson was brought to the Fergus Falls hospital shortly before noon where his injuries were dressed. Although serious the wounds will not be fatal, it was said.

Geneva, Sept. 16.—Nine countries were elected to nonpermanent membership in the League of Nations Council today, bringing the strength of the council to 14 nations and thereby effectuating the Cecil Fromageot plan for meeting the crisis which developed within the league last March.

Of the nine elected the Assembly specified the following to hold office for three years: Poland, Chile and Rumania.

The nonpermanent members elected by the Assembly were: Poland, Rumania, Holland, Chile, Colombia, China, Salvador, Belgium and Czechoslovakia. The first eight were elected on the first ballot and Czechoslovakia on the second. Latin America got three memberships, North America none.

China, Colombia and Holland were declared to have been elected for two years. The other three nonpermanent council members will serve for one year.

When opposition to German elevation to permanent council membership arose in the council last year because of demands of Spain, Brazil, Poland and China for permanent council representation. Failing to gain complete recognition of their demands, Spain and Brazil withdrew from the league, effective in 1928, while Poland and China were satisfied to accept the next best thing, nonpermanent membership.

Ireland received 10 votes on the first ballot and Canada two.

Poland was voted by the assembly to be reeligible for election. Uruguay running independently of the Latin American bloc was overwhelmingly defeated, receiving only nine votes to Salvador's 42.

NEW YORK-PARIS FLIGHT IS AGAIN POSTPONED TODAY

LEAK IN CENTER GASOLINE
TANK BACK OF RIGHT MOTOR DEVELOPED

MORE THAN 1,000 PEOPLE AT ROOSEVELT FIELD WHEN DELAY IS ANNOUNCED

By PAUL W. WHITE
United Press Staff Correspondent
Roosevelt Field, Westbury, N. Y., Sept. 16.—The attempt of Rene Fonck, French flier, and three companions to span the Atlantic from New York to Paris without stopping in the giant Sikorsky plane S-35 again was postponed today.

A leak in the center gasoline tank back of the right motor caused the postponement. The gasoline was leaking at the rate of 10 gallons an hour, at the scheduled hour for the take off.

More than 1,000 persons had gathered at the field when the delay was announced. Captain Fonck, Lieutenant Lawrence W. Curtin, U. S. N.; Joseph Islamoff and Charles Clavier, the crew to undertake the epochal flight, were ready for duty. Provisions for the 3,600 mile trip were aboard.

But the efforts of the mechanics to stop the leak were unsuccessful and Captain Fonck decided at 6:30 a. m. that the day would have progressed too far for a take off if he were to wait for the mechanics to fix it this morning.

Accordingly the pilot asked F. R. Mayer, one of the backers of the flight to announce postponement.

It is not known when the flight will be held now.

ENGLAND'S LOUDEST VOICE AGAINST DEBT FUNDING TO U. S.

THOMAS MARLOWE, EDITOR OF DAILY MAIL, HAS RE-SIGNED

MAIL HAD CARRIED ON VIOLENT ATTACK UPON UNITED STATES

London, Sept. 16.—(UP)—England's loudest voice in opposition to the debt funding agreement with the United States apparently has been still by the resignation of Thomas Marlowe, as editor of the Daily Mail, a position which he had held since 1899.

It was understood that Marlowe, who resigned yesterday, would continue as chairman of the Associated Newspapers, Limited, which is the Northcliffe Press, now controlled by the late publisher's brother, Lord Rothermere.

In some quarters today the resignation was connected with a series of incidents of last summer which began with a virulent attack by the Mail upon the United States.

"Shylock" was the Mail's description of Uncle Sam, and it printed the words "Usury" in its columns with the two first letters, "US" in large type. Lord Rothermere subsequently repudiated this anti-American campaign.

His efforts have placed Shattuck on the War Department's honor list of military academies since 1912.

The rebuilding program has brought about the erection of Whipple Hall, a dormitory housing 140 students, of a new science hall, now under construction, and given the institution a row of stone buildings extending for a quarter of a mile.

FURIOUS HUSBAND SHOOTS DOWN WIFE AND HIS FRIEND

IGNACIO ORTIZ, BELOIT MAN,
SLAYS EDWARD WIS-
NIEWSKI

STANDS ON RUNNING BOARD,
FIRES AT MAN AT THE WHEEL

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 16.—(UP)—Ignacio Ortiz, 28, Beloit, is held by police here today in connection with the shooting to death of Edward Wisniewski, 29, and seriously wounding of his 19 year old wife.

The shooting took place on the Blue Mound road as Ortiz stood on the running board of an automobile driven by Wisniewski.

As Wisniewski slumped down behind the steering gear with a bullet through the heart the machine crashed into a telephone pole. Mrs. Ortiz was thrown through the windshield by the impact.

After having shot Wisniewski, Ortiz shot twice at his wife, one bullet entering her chest and one in the left arm. Her condition is serious.

According to police the couple had been separated for several weeks. Mrs. Ortiz had left her honeymoon home at Beloit and came to the home of her parents here.

When Ortiz who was waiting at the home of his wife's parents saw Mrs. Ortiz in the company of another man, he became furious and drawing a revolver, ordered Wisniewski to drive out into the country where they would "fight it out."

After leaving the home of Mrs. Ortiz's parents Wisniewski turned toward the city and Ortiz thinking it was a trick fired.

According to police he has admitted firing the shots.

Ortiz, charged with first degree murder, was arraigned in district court here today, waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to trial.

Mrs. Hazel Ortiz, wife of the accused, was reported in a serious condition from the wounds. Ortiz, according to police, admitted the shooting, declaring he became insanely jealous when he saw his wife, from whom he had been estranged for several weeks, with another man.

Wisniewski, it was learned today, had met Mrs. Ortiz but once previously and was with her last night only because he had volunteered to take her to a hospital to visit a sick friend.

SECRETS OF "HOUSE ON K STREET" ARE BARED IN TRIAL

WALTER D. MILLER, AGED NEGRO
BUTLER, GIVES HIS TESTIMONY

JESS SMITH, HE TESTIFIED,
PAID HIS SALARY AND THAT
OF THE COOK

By S. W. LEWIS
United Press Staff Correspondent

New York, Sept. 16.—Secrets of the now famous "House on K Street" in Washington, D. C., where Harry M. Daugherty and Jesse Smith lived for a year while Daugherty was attorney general were told in the Daugherty-Miller conspiracy trial here today.

Walter D. Miller, an old negro butler, white haired and shaking with nervousness, testified that for a year beginning on the day Warren G. Harding was inaugurated president he and a cook were the sole servants in that much talked of house.

He and the cook, he said, had come from the household staff of Edward B. McLean, Washington publisher and friend of President Harding.

Jess Smith, he testified, paid his salary, the cook's salary and all bills of the establishment.

McLean, he said, owned the furniture.

Calling of the old butler marked the opening of the government's attempt to establish a connection between Daugherty and the transactions which followed Richard Merton's agreement to pay John T. King $441,000 for obtaining return to German and Swiss owners of $7,000,000 assets of the American Metals Company, seized as Germany property during the war.

Daugherty and Smith usually breakfasted together and frequently had lunch there together, he said, while they had many breakfast and luncheon guests.

Asked to name some of the people who frequently called there he named William J. Burns, detective; Colonel Forbes of the Veterans Bureau and at that time an assistant to Daugherty; Howard Mangdon, Colonel Miller, codefendant with Daugherty and the late John T. King.

After Smith and Daugherty moved from the house to apartments in the Wardman Park hotel, Miller said he continued as butler for a short time and then was given a position in the file division of the Department of Justice, remaining in that position for about a year, except for one period of a month, when he returned to the hotel as butler for Daugherty and Smith.

Miller, on cross examination, said he had been impressed with the close friendship between Daugherty and King.

His cross examination was brief and John Durkin, secretary to King, who testified yesterday, was recalled.

He testified under questioning by Max D. Steuer, attorney for Daugherty, that the two checks for $2,500 he told yesterday of having seen King draw to Daugherty's credit were noted on the check stub as having been for "deficit republican party, State of Ohio."

GENERAL RHINOW ASKS HALF MILLION FOR ENFORCEMENT

WANTS STAFF OF 75 ENFORCEMENT AGENTS TO ASSIST HIM

WILL SET OUT THAT HIS PRESENT FORCE HAS BEEN VERY EFFICIENT

St. Paul, Sept. 16.—(UP)—Brigadier General Walter F. Rhinow, prohibition administrator for the northwest, will have a triple barreled request to make of General Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement, at the conference between Rhinow and Andrews in Washington, September 20.

Rhinow's "platform" will ask: A budget of $500,000 to spend for prohibition enforcement in the northwest during 1927, which is an increase of $200,000.

A staff of 75 enforcement agents, which is an increase of 25 over the present number.

Twelve more automobiles. Rhinow is expected to point out that his force set a high standard during 1925 and 1926 and that every method of measurement gives evidence of its efficiency. He revealed that owing to the pressure of his men's enforcement methods, prices of bootleg liquor have jumped.

Alcohol, for instance, was quoted at $6 a gallon last year, now it is selling for $15 and $16 a gallon.

Commenting on the larger budget he will ask, Rhinow pointed out that "although the sum may seem large, it remains a fact that the prohibition department has paid its way through fines assessed in federal court."

FOUND GUILTY OF MAKING FALSE BANK STATEMENTS

New Ulm, Minn., Sept. 16.—(UP)—Two years at hard labor was the sentence imposed Wednesday on Robert Eidsvold of Minneapolis, vice president of the Minnesota Central Creameries, who was found guilty last week of making false bank statements to obtain credit.

Eidsvold was indicted after the creameries had failed and left $250,000 liabilities. He was accused of having falsified a bank statement to the Brown county bank.

Also awaiting trial on charges in connection with the failure is Henry Eidsvold, treasurer of the company. His case will come up later.

Both Eidsvolds were officers of the Eidsvold Creamery company of Minneapolis.

Robert was granted a 40 day stay of sentence pending an appeal.

MAN OF MANY CRIMES TO BE TRIED FRIDAY

Minneapolis, Sept. 16.—(UP)—Attorneys for both sides were ordered today to be prepared to start the trial Friday of Thomas Johnson, accused of murdering Leinard Erdall, former University of Minnesota football star.

Johnson, who has admitted 14 murders, including Erdall's, and 1,750 robberies, was declared to be sane and capable of distinguishing between right and wrong in the report of a commission appointed to examine him.

CEREMONIES AT OPENING OF TEN MILES OF PAVEMENT

Jordan, Minn., Sept. 16.—(UP)—With Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, in attendance, the 10-mile stretch of pavement between Shakopee and Jordan on state highway No. 5 was opened with formal ceremonies today.

"This road, when completed, will be one of the great arteries of the state," Babcock said in an address.

Paved highways are not detrimental to small towns, Babcock said, but by making them more accessible, are contributing to their expansion and growth.

NEWHALL IS DOMINANT
FIGURE

Faribault, Minn., Sept. 16.—(UP)—With an extensive rebuilding campaign completed, Charles Watson Newhall, today started the second decade of his career as head master of Shattuck school, one of the leading military academies of the country.

Dr. Newhall was graduated from Shattuck school in 1890, obtained his Degree of Bachelor of Arts from Johns Hopkins university and, in 1894 returned here to become professor of mathematics, continuing in this role until he was appointed headmaster in 1916. His efforts have placed Shattuck on the War Department's honor list of military academies since 1912.

The rebuilding program has brought about the erection of Whipple Hall, a dormitory housing 140 students, of a new science hall, now under construction, and given the institution a row of stone buildings extending for a quarter of a mile.

FURIOUS HUSBAND SHOOTS DOWN WIFE AND HIS FRIEND

IGNACIO ORTIZ, BELOIT MAN,
SLAYS EDWARD WIS-
NIEWSKI

STANDS ON RUNNING BOARD,
WHEEL

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 16.—(UP)—Ignacio Ortiz, 28, Beloit, is held by police here today in connection with the shooting to death of Edward Wisniewski, 29, and seriously wounding of his 19 year old wife.

The shooting took place on the Blue Mound road as Ortiz stood on the running board of an automobile driven by Wisniewski.

As Wisniewski slumped down behind the steering gear with a bullet through the heart the machine crashed into a telephone pole. Mrs. Ortiz was thrown through the windshield by the impact.

After having shot Wisniewski, Ortiz shot twice at his wife, one bullet entering her chest and one in the left arm. Her condition is serious.

According to police the couple had been separated for several weeks. Mrs. Ortiz had left her honeymoon home at Beloit and came to the home of her parents here.

When Ortiz who was waiting at the home of his wife's parents saw Mrs. Ortiz in the company of another man, he became furious and drawing a revolver, ordered Wisniewski to drive out into the country where they would "fight it out."

After leaving the home of Mrs. Ortiz's parents Wisniewski turned toward the city and Ortiz thinking it was a trick fired.

According to police he has admitted firing the shots.

Ortiz, charged with first degree murder, was arraigned in district court here today, waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to trial.

Mrs. Hazel Ortiz, wife of the accused, was reported in a serious condition from the wounds. Ortiz, according to police, admitted the shooting, declaring he became insanely jealous when he saw his wife, from whom he had been estranged for several weeks, with another man.

Wisniewski, it was learned today, had met Mrs. Ortiz but once previously and was with her last night only because he had volunteered to take her to a hospital to visit a sick friend.

SECRETS OF "HOUSE ON K STREET" ARE BARED IN TRIAL

WALTER D. MILLER, AGED NE-GRO BUTLER, GIVES HIS
TESTIMONY

JESS SMITH, HE TESTIFIED,
PAID HIS SALARY AND THAT
OF THE COOK

By S. W. LEWIS
United Press Staff Correspondent

New York, Sept. 16.—Secrets of the now famous "House on K Street" in Washington, D. C., where Harry M. Daugherty and Jesse Smith lived for a year while Daugherty was attorney general were told in the Daugherty-Miller conspiracy trial here today.

Walter D. Miller, an old negro butler, white haired and shaking with nervousness, testified that for a year beginning on the day Warren G. Harding was inaugurated president he and a cook were the sole servants in that much talked of house.

He and the cook, he said, had come from the household staff of Edward B. McLean, Washington publisher and friend of President Harding.

Jess Smith, he testified, paid his salary, the cook's salary and all bills of the establishment.

McLean, he said, owned the furniture.

Calling of the old butler marked the opening of the government's attempt to establish a connection between Daugherty and the transactions which followed Richard Merton's agreement to pay John T. King $441,000 for obtaining return to German and Swiss owners of $7,000,000 assets of the American Metals Company, seized as Germany property during the war.

Daugherty and Smith usually breakfasted together and frequently had lunch there together, he said, while they had many breakfast and luncheon guests.

Asked to name some of the people who frequently called there he named William J. Burns, detective; Colonel Forbes of the Veterans Bureau and at that time an assistant to Daugherty; Howard Mangdon, Colonel Miller, codefendant with Daugherty and the late John T. King.

After Smith and Daugherty moved from the house to apartments in the Wardman Park hotel, Miller said he continued as butler for a short time and then was given a position in the file division of the Department of Justice, remaining in that position for about a year, except for one period of a month, when he returned to the hotel as butler for Daugherty and Smith.

Miller, on cross examination, said he had been impressed with the close friendship between Daugherty and King.

His cross examination was brief and John Durkin, secretary to King, who testified yesterday, was recalled.

He testified under questioning by Max D. Steuer, attorney for Daugherty, that the two checks for $2,500 he told yesterday of having seen King draw to Daugherty's credit were noted on the check stub as having been for "deficit republican party, State of Ohio."

GENERAL RHINOW ASKS HALF MILLION FOR ENFORCEMENT

WANTS STAFF OF 75 ENFORCE-MENT AGENTS TO ASSIST HIM

WILL SET OUT THAT HIS PRES-ENT FORCE HAS BEEN VERY EFFICIENT

St. Paul, Sept. 16.—(UP)—Brigadier General Walter F. Rhinow, prohibition administrator for the northwest, will have a triple barreled request to make of General Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement, at the conference between Rhinow and Andrews in Washington, September 20.

Rhinow's "platform" will ask: A budget of $500,000 to spend for prohibition enforcement in the northwest during 1927, which is an increase of $200,000.

A staff of 75 enforcement agents, which is an increase of 25 over the present number.

Twelve more automobiles.

Rhinow is expected to point out that his force set a high standard during 1925 and 1926 and that every method of measurement gives evidence of its efficiency. He revealed that owing to the pressure of his men's enforcement methods, prices of bootleg liquor have jumped.

Alcohol, for instance, was quoted at $6 a gallon last year, now it is selling for $15 and $16 a gallon.

Commenting on the larger budget he will ask, Rhinow pointed out that "although the sum may seem large, it remains a fact that the prohibition department has paid its way through fines assessed in federal court."

FOUND GUILTY OF MAKING FALSE BANK STATEMENTS

New Ulm, Minn., Sept. 16.—(UP)—Two years at hard labor was the sentence imposed Wednesday on Robert Eldsvold of Minneapolis, vice president of the Minnesota Central Creameries, who was found guilty last week of making false bank statements to obtain credit.

Eldsvold was indicted after the creameries had failed and left $250,000 liabilities. He was accused of having falsified a bank statement to the Brown county bank.

Also awaiting trial on charges in connection with the failure is Henry Eldsvold, treasurer of the company. His case will come up later.

Both Eldsvolds were officers of the Eldsvold Creamery company of Minneapolis.

Robert was granted a 40 day stay of sentence pending an appeal.

MAN OF MANY CRIMES TO BE TRIED FRIDAY

Minneapolis, Sept. 16.—(UP)—Attorneys for both sides were ordered today to be prepared to start the trial Friday of Thomas Johnson, accused of murdering Leinard Erdall, former University of Minnesota football star.

Judge E. A. Montgomery, who will preside, issued the order directing the attorneys to be ready to proceed with the case.

Johnson, who has admitted 14 murders, including Erdall's, and 1,750 robberies, was declared to be sane and capable of distinguishing between right and wrong in the report of a commission appointed to examine him.

CEREMONIES AT OPENING OF TEN MILES OF PAVEMENT

Jordan, Minn., Sept. 16.—(UP)—With Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, in attendance, the 10-mile stretch of pavement between Shakopee and Jordan on state highway No. 5 was opened with formal ceremonies today.

"This road, when completed, will be one of the great arteries of the state," Babcock said in an address.

Paved highways are not detrimental to small towns, Babcock said, but by making them more accessible, are contributing to their expansion and growth.

FADS OF THE FAMOUS

Washington Luiz

Washington Luiz, president-elect of Brazil, will inaugurate his administration on November 15th of this year not only with a sound platform but also with one great hobby, "good highways."

While governor of the state of Sao Paulo, Luiz was responsible for the development of the present good highway system which links every leading city of the state with the city of Sao Paulo and with Santos, the world's greatest coffee port.

Luiz will inaugurate his administration in November well aware of the fact that the question of more good highways is a grave problem which his administration will have to deal with, but he has announced definitely that what he calls the principal item of his program, and what others call his great hobby, will be put through, and his name will go down in Brazilian history as the "Yankee" Brazilian road builder.

FASHIONS

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, Sept. 16. — (UP)—Belts are still being used on frocks of semi-sports type, the width of the belt never exceeding one inch. They are made of suede, leather or cloth and many of them have unusual fastenings of metal or wood.

Fur, dyed to match the color of the dress or coat, is being used on many new models. Rabbit and mole are the furs usually dyed in fabric colors. Long-napped plush is used occasionally to replace dyed fur. We find this colored fur idea used mostly on dresses or coats of sports type.

Valencia blue, a brilliant new shade, is artistically combined with black for the afternoon dress, the blue being introduced as inverted panels in the skirt, pipings, or embroidery.

Slave bracelets combining huge stones with gold or silver links of half-inch length are among the present jewelry fads. Stones in imitation of green jade or carnelian are those frequently worn together. Real stones or circles of jade and carnelian combined with dull silver links or with green gold are chosen by those who can afford to indulge in novelties.

Small turbans or tams with high rear-sloping crowns are the hats of the moment. Women have suddenly discarded wide-brimmed straw shapes in favor of these close-fitting Fall models.

Huge leather pocket-books with zipper clasps are recent accessory additions. Flat envelope shapes still continue prominent although it is thought that the large shopping bag will meet with even greater favor. Bright colored leathers are not considered quite as smart as staple shades. Now, indeed, are the envelope purses of velvet with pipings of metallic kid. These must be matched exactly with the velvet gown with which they are carried.

There's a touch of tomorrow in the weather today. In other words fall ain't very far away.

If you want to be the center of attraction, get a small pup and walk around town with him.

When it's zero weather, it's hard to imagine yourself sitting out on the front porch reading your newspaper. And when it's September, it's hard to imagine stoking a furnace. But it's coming. Are you going to order your coal now and be ready or are you going to wait for the rush and pay more?

It's embarrassing when somebody comes up to you and says he's been away, when you haven't even missed him.

The teacher was talking of kindness to animals, and telling his pupils to be kind to them all ways. "I once saw a little boy cut the tail off a cat. Can any boy tell me a passage in Scripture where such a thing is forbidden?" Hope of the Class: "What God hath joined together let no man put asunder."

Most any man will lose his religion and cuss and swear when his furnace puffs in his face. We know 'cause we've heard 'em. But when you burn STANDARD COAL, you can maintain a nice, sweet, even disposition all the time.

FADS OF THE FAMOUS

Washington Luiz

Washington Luiz, president-elect of Brazil, will inaugurate his administration on November 15th of this year not only with a sound platform but also with one great hobby, "good highways."

While governor of the state of Sao Paulo, Luiz was responsible for the development of the present good highway system which links every leading city of the state with the city of Sao Paulo and with Santos, the world's greatest coffee port.

Luiz will inaugurate his administration in November well aware of the fact that the question of more good highways is a grave problem which his administration will have to deal with, but he has announced definitely that what he calls the principal item of his program, and what others call his great hobby, will be put through, and his name will go down in Brazilian history as the "Yankee" Brazilian road builder.

FASHIONS

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, Sept. 16. — (UP)—Belts are still being used on frocks of semi-sports type, the width of the belt never exceeding one inch. They are made of suede, leather or cloth and many of them have unusual fastenings of metal or wood.

Fur, dyed to match the color of the dress or coat, is being used on many new models. Rabbit and mole are the furs usually dyed in fabric colors. Long-napped plush is used occasionally to replace dyed fur. We find this colored fur idea used mostly on dresses or coats of sports type.

Valencia blue, a brilliant new shade, is artistically combined with black for the afternoon dress, the blue being introduced as inverted panels in the shirt, pinnings, or embroidery.

Slave bracelets combining huge stones with gold or silver links of half-inch length are among the present jewelry fads. Stones in imitation of green jade or carnelian are those frequently worn together. Real stones or circles of jade and carnelian combined with dull silver links or with green gold are chosen by those who can afford to indulge in novelties.

Small turbans or tams with high rear-sloping crowns are the hats of the moment. Women have suddenly discarded wide-brimmed straw shapes in favor of these close-fitting Fall models.

Huge leather pocket-books with zipper clasps are recent accessory additions. Flat envelope shapes still continue prominent although it is thought that the large shopping bag will meet with even greater favor. Bright colored leathers are not considered quite as smart as staple shades. New, indeed, are the envelope purses of velvet with pipings of metallic kid. These must be matched exactly with the velvet gown with which they are carried.

One-Piece Frocks May Win Approval

Two-Piece Made in Many Variations—Black Evening Gowns.

On fitful summer days, when woman-kind is looking her loveliest in sheer organdies, cool white crepes and fluttering printed chiffons, the master minds of fashion are deep in the merchandising problems of launching and selling fabrics, furs and styles. They are, indeed, taking a thought for tomorrow and, moreover, trying to think your thoughts, dear lady. Will you again favor the two-piece frock? They think so. Will you take kindly to molre? They hope so. Will velvets be the rage in dresses in all colors? They pray that will come to pass or they have lost money.

So it goes, dear lady, while you are at the beach in your horizontal-striped beach coat or cretonne coat, or in a plaid taffeta bathing suit with its little bloomers banded in plain color, or dancing in a fluttering chiffon, or playing golf in a Chanel sweater and plaited skirt, remember the eyes of the fashion makers are upon you, trying to fathom you. Yes, trying to fathom your buying power on the new colors and your taste on skirt lengths and desires on serge and kasha.

Hints of autumn modes are in the air, but one cannot safely predict what the mode will be until it is seen how women of the smart world react to the new fashions. Today fashions do not change quickly or decisively. Instead there is a rather gradual evolution of the mode, and often it takes a very practiced eye to distinguish the differences in silhouette and detail that distinguish a model of the new season from one of the last.

It is said that one-piece frocks will to a great extent usurp the place of the long-popular two-piece model. But this is to be taken with a grain of salt, as it were. There are as many variations of the two-piece mode in the collections of new models as there were in last season's, and they are quite as smart and as interesting. However, there are several frocks which exemplify the vogue of one-piece models. In general these rather suggest the two-piece idea, although skirt and top are attached.

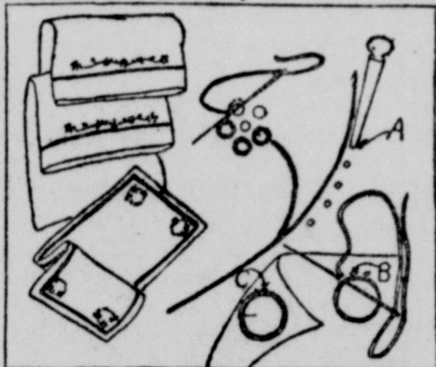

The woman who fails to include in her summer wardrobe a dance or dinner frock of sheer black is sure to regret her lack of fashion foresight before the season is over. Nothing quite takes the place of a black evening gown, and it can be worn many more times than one which attracts attention because of its color.

Everywhere one sees the black evening gowns. At the fashionable summer places, as well as at the roof gardens and restaurants in town, there is unmistakable evidence that its place in fashion is a very definite one and a distinctly important one. While black taffeta appears in an occasional robe de style, the black dresses of midsummer reflect a tendency toward sheer filmy materials that seem a bit more in keeping with the season.

Some Hints When Doing French Embroidery Work

In a graceful spray or wreath of French embroidery, whether used on underwear, children's clothes or household things, the eyelets that make the flowers and fill in other parts of the design lend the greatest charm.

If your design calls for round eyelets, as the ones shown here, you will need a stiletto to punch them, as shown at A. An ivory or bone stiletto is usually best, but be sure to choose one with a very sharp point.

Punch the stiletto through the material just far enough to meet the outline of the eyelets that is stamped on the goods. Fasten the thread with a tiny back stitch taken very near the edge of the eyelet, as shown in the enlarged view at B. Work around the eyelet with over-and-over stitches not more than one-sixteenth of an inch deep. Then bring the thread to the wrong side and take another small back stitch as at C.

Eyelets that are not round should be cut with sharp embroidery scissors and embroidered in the same manner outlined for the round ones.

Georgette and Satin

Gray being a neutral color combines very well with other more decided tints. Gray and cherry red are fashionable and pretty, so also are gray and blue (especially powder or navy blue) and gray with the various shades of rose. Printed material in mixed colors is also very smart. Georgette is frequently used in combination with satin. It is particularly good for sleeves, ties, collars, or as an overdress.

Three Soft Flounces, Shawl Collar Featured

Georgette lends itself admirably in this afternoon frock of lemon color, and which has a shawl trimmed with rhinestones. The bodice hangs in straight lines, while the skirt has three soft flounces.

Sheer Fabrics Dominate Mode, Day or Evening

For the girl whose summer is a constant round of visits, frocks of chiffon or georgette are ideal models. Not only are they infinitely chic but their added virtues of not crushing and packing into small spaces make them a most satisfactory choice.

Fashion apparently has lost all recollection of the old idea that chiffons and materials of similar texture must be reserved for formal costumes. In the modes of midsummer one finds them used for frocks of the utmost simplicity. In fact, many are almost tailored in line and detail. Very little trimming appears on these dresses as the materials in themselves are so beautiful in coloring and design that extra ornamentation would only detract from their smartness.

The vogue of printed chiffons is at its height and these colorful and flattering frocks are in evidence at evening affairs as well as in the afternoon. Small floral prints in exquisitely blended colorings are perhaps the most popular. But equally charming are materials that feature the newer arrangement of geometric and modernistic design.

Coat Lines Slim and Straight for Season

The fact that coat lines remain slim and straight is of unusual importance. Except in a few isolated instances, where there is a slight suggestion of a flare or back fullness, the silhouette is one of undeviating slenderness. This is welcome news to those who found flares a bit too exaggerated for their own particular types and cape effects not so flattering as they had hoped.

So beautiful are the materials used for coats this season and so smart are the designs and subtle color effects that the slim lines and lack of ornamentation only serve to accentuate their distinction.

Self-toned patterns woven through the surface are a feature of some of the coats, while others reflect the vogue for shaded effects and for harmonious color combinations.

Chiffon Flowers Much in Fashion Limelight

Chiffon flowers are seen everywhere and these are generally used for dress decoration of one sort or another. They are very graceful, exceedingly becoming and softening to any set of features. It is an art to place a flower of this large and spreading sort on the shoulder, or to wear it at the waistline, according to the demands of the dress with which it is to be worn.

But its addition always adds a certain soft something that knocks the general severity of the costume into a cocked hat. A chiffon flower is but a faint addition, adding none the less just that shadowy bit of charm which is quite the last word along with the modern costume of the day.

Lace Is Prominent as Adornment for Frocks

The lace detail is occasionally carried into a more formal manifestation. Long lace sleeves, for instance, may be added to a dinner frock which last season would have been sleeveless.

Another decoration for dinner and dance frocks is the necklace suggestion worked out as insert, applique, beading or embroidery. Often it takes the form of a slender band following the line of the décolletage into a deep V-shape ended with a bowknot.

The frock thus adorned may be of almost any contour, from a bouffant robe de style to a slim near sheath with fullness concentrated at back or front.

Fur Prominent in New Autumn Coats

Straight Line Modes Still to Be Good the Coming Season.

A distinctive collection of fall coats for dress, travel and sports introduces many of the newest phases of the mode, such as the dolman sleeve and a suggestion of the blouse treatment.

The fabrics employed in the development of these coats provide great interest and variety, especially those in the travel and sports category. There are imported tweeds, shadow plaids and novelty weaves, such as an imitation lizard fabric which is very effective. For the dress coats smooth-surfaced fabrics are shown.

Fur-lined models are included also, as illustrated in a heavier colored duvetyne-like material lined with suli-like and trimmed with beaver collar and cuffs.

The straight lines are maintained throughout, with emphasis placed on intricate seaming and paneling. A striking feature of many of the models is the luxurious fur cuffs, covering the entire forearm to the elbow and extending above in pointed effect. Caracul, kit fox, kolinsky and squirrel are some of the most predominant furs employed for the collars and cuffs.

The dolman takes expression in a black and white imported tweed

Hand-Painted Novelties Feature Women's Wear

There is a marked demand these days for plain crepes, georgettes and raddiums from women who wish to paint designs on them and so develop their own novelties.

Patterns of printed stuff are bought and the designs are copied in a somewhat lavish manner, actual paints being used. Much of this kind of work is being done by women who are adept in the use of the brush themselves.

It is believed that quite a movement along this line is indicated because the painting is a fad. By buying the plain materials many women of good imaginative qualities or with artistic ideas are enabled to produce patterns that are exclusive.

The same thing is happening in the making of scarfs, which vogue is destined for greater popularity during the coming months.

Sweaters in Sets

The sweater sets which first became popular in Scotland have taken a firm hold on the fancy of American shoppers. These sets consist of two matching sweaters, one of the slip-on variety and the other of the coat pattern. They are light and loosely woven garments designed for early summer wear.

Two-Piece Mode in Many Variations—Black Evening Gowns.

On fitful summer days, when womanhood is looking her loveliest in sheer organdies, cool white crepes and fluttering printed chiffons, the master minds of fashion are deep in the merchandising problems of launching and selling fabrics, furs and styles. Some Hints When Doing French Embroidery Work

In a graceful spray or wreath of French embroidery, whether used on underwear, children's clothes or household things, the eyelets that make the flowers and fill in other parts of the design lend the greatest charm.

If your design calls for round eyelets, as the ones shown here, you will need a stiletto to punch them, as shown at A. An ivory or bone stiletto is usually best, but be sure to choose one with a very sharp point.

Punch the stiletto through the material just far enough to meet the outline of the eyelets that is stamped on the goods. Fasten the thread with a tiny back stitch taken very near the edge of the eyelet, as shown in the enlarged view at B. Work around the eyelet with over-and-over stitches not more than one-sixteenth of an inch deep. Then bring the thread to the wrong side and take another small back stitch as at C.

Eyelets that are not round should be cut with sharp embroidery scissors and embroidered in the same manner outlined for the round ones.

Georgette and Satin

Gray being a neutral color combines very well with other more decided tints. Gray and cherry red are fashionable and pretty, so also are gray and blue (especially powder or navy blue) and gray with the various shades of rose. Printed material in mixed colors is also very smart. Georgette is frequently used in combination with satin. It is particularly good for sleeves, ties, collars, or as an overdress.

Three Soft Flounces, Shawl Collar Featured

Georgette lends itself admirably in this afternoon frock of lemon color, and which has a shawl trimmed with rhinestones. The bodice hangs in straight lines, while the skirt has three soft flounces.

Sheer Fabrics Dominate Mode, Day or Evening

For the girl whose summer is a constant round of visits, frocks of chiffon or georgette are ideal models. Not only are they infinitely chic but their added virtues of not crushing and packing into small spaces make them a most satisfactory choice.

Fashion apparently has lost all recollection of the old idea that chiffons and materials of similar texture must be reserved for formal costumes. In the modes of midsummer one finds them used for frocks of the utmost simplicity. In fact, many are almost trimmed in line and detail. Very little trimming appears on these dresses as the materials in themselves are so beautiful in coloring and design that extra ornamentation would only detract from their smartness.

The vogue of printed chiffons is at its height and these colorful and flattering frocks are in evidence at evening affairs as well as in the afternoon. Small floral prints in exquisitely blended colorings are perhaps the most popular. But equally charming are materials that feature the newer arrangement of geometric and modernistic design.

Coat Lines Slim and Straight for Season

The fact that coat lines remain slim and straight is of unusual importance. Except in a few isolated instances, where there is a slight suggestion of a flare or back fullness, the silhouette is one of undeviating slenderness. This is welcome news to those who found flares a bit too exaggerated for their own particular types and cape effects not so flattering as they had hoped.

So beautiful are the materials used for coats this season and so smart are the designs and subtle color effects that the slim lines and lack of ornamentation only serve to accentuate their distinction.

Self-toned patterns woven through the surface are a feature of some of the coats, while others reflect the vogue for shaded effects and for harmonious color combinations.

Chiffon Flowers Much in Fashion Limelight

Chiffon flowers are seen everywhere and these are generally used for dress decoration of one sort or another. They are very graceful, exceedingly becoming and softening to any set of features. It is an art to place a flower of this large and spreading sort on the shoulder, or to wear it at the waistline, according to the demands of the dress with which it is to be worn.

Lace Is Prominent as Adornment for Frocks

The lace detail is occasionally carried into a more formal manifestation. Long lace sleeves, for instance, may be added to a dinner frock which last season would have been sleeveless.

Another decoration for dinner and dance frocks is the necklace suggestion worked out as insert, applique, beading or embroidery. Often it takes the form of a slender band following the line of the décolletage into a deep V-shape ended with a bowknot.

"Show-Off" Comic Analyzes and Classifies Various Kinds of Laughs

Laughter, the happiest expression of human emotions, is a profound psychological subject, and the business of creating laughs is quite a serious one.

So saith Ford Sterling, screen comic par excellence, who will delight local audiences tonight and Friday at the Lyceum theatre with his amusing interpretation of the title role in "The Show-Off," Mal St. Clair's film version of George Kelly's stage success.

Fur Prominent in New Autumn Coats

Straight Line Modes Still to Be Good the Coming Season.

A distinctive collection of fall coats for dress, travel and sports introduces many of the newest phases of the mode, such as the dolman sleeve and a suggestion of the blouse treatment.

The fabrics employed in the development of these coats provide great interest and variety, especially those in the travel and sports category. There are imported tweeds, shadow plaids and novelty weaves, such as an imitation lizard fabric which is very effective. For the dress coats smooth surfaced fabrics are shown.

Fur-lined models are included also, as illustrated in a beaver colored duvetyne-like material lined with suli and trimmed with beaver collar and cuffs.

The straight lines are maintained throughout, with emphasis placed on intricate seaming and paneling. A striking feature of many of the models is the luxurious fur cuffs, covering the entire forearm to the elbow and extending above in pointed effect. Caracul, kit fox, kolinsky and squirrel are some of the most predominant furs employed for the collars and cuffs.

The dolman takes expression in a black and white imported tweed

Park Theatre to Open Saturday and Sunday—Picture Policy With Milton Sills in "Men of Steel"—One of Biggest Films Made This Year

duction since last November 2, is one of the biggest pictures yet filmed by this organization will open the New Park's Saturday and Sunday picture policy this Saturday. For not only is the story an unusual one and the settings magnificent, but Sills has done the best work of his screen career, according to those in the know.

Sills wrote the story from which this picture has been filmed from a suggestion received in R. G. Kirk's short story, "United States Flavor."

No one knows better than Sills what Sills can do, and in the writing of the story he worked knowing the person who was to play each part—knowing their ability and personality. This made for a great vehicle at the start. The United States Steel Corporation has co-operated from the beginning with First National in the making of the picture which is a thrilling story of Minnesota iron range.

Hand-Painted Novelties Feature Women's Wear

There is a marked demand these days for plain crepes, georgettes and rapiers from women who wish to paint designs on them and so develop their own novelties.

Patterns of printed stuff are bought and the designs are copied in a somewhat lavish manner, actual paints being used. Much of this kind of work is being done by women who are adept in the use of the brush themselves.

It is believed that quite a movement along this line is indicated because the painting is a fad. By buying the plain materials many women of good imaginative qualities or with artistic ideas are enabled to produce patterns that are exclusive.

The same thing is happening in the making of scarfs, which vogue is destined for greater popularity during the coming months.

Sweaters in Sets

The sweater sets which first became popular in Scotland have taken a firm hold on the fancy of American shoppers. These sets consist of two matching sweaters, one of the slip-on variety and the other of the coat pattern. They are light and loosely woven garments designed for early summer wear.

Featuring Polka Dot

For the navy-blue tailleur the hat and scarf of blue and white polka dot foulard, the scarf tied in a loose bow on the shoulder, is a delightful accessory.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1926

AMERICAN CONSTITUTION DAY

GENERAL observance of Friday, September 17, as American Constitution Day is urged in a proclamation issued by Governor Theodore Christianson.

The state's executive urges that all public schools devote some part of the day "to such exercises as will impress upon the future citizens of our state and nation not only their debt to the Fathers but their obligations to posterity."

Gov. Christianson also urges all patriotic and civic organizations to take advantage of the opportunity afforded to "assemble the people to dedicate themselves anew to the responsibility of protecting and supporting the constitution and the laws of the United States."

The proclamation follows:

On September 17, 1787, the Constitution of the United States was formally adopted by the vote of the States represented in the Constitutional Convention. Although formal ratification was not completed until some time later, it seems fitting and proper to recognize September 17 as the date which best signalizes the adoption of our great national charter.

One hundred and thirty nine years have elapsed, and under the government established under that constitution, the United States has grown until its far-flung boundaries extend from Maine to Manila and its territory embraces more than half of the North American continent. We have become the wealthiest, happiest, freest, and perhaps the most powerful people in the world. While other governments have rocked or cracked under the strain of a recent world cataclysm, the foundations of the Great Republic are secure.

Now, therefore, in commemoration of the beneficent and far-reaching work of the Founding Fathers, with the purpose of helping to preserve and stimulate among Americans of today the spirit which it animated those who guided our nation during its formative years, I, Theodore Christianson, Governor of Minnesota, do hereby proclaim and designate, Friday, September 17, 1926, as Constitution Day.

I would especially urge that in the public schools some part of the day be devoted to such exercises as will impress upon the future citizens of our State and Nation, not only their debt to the Fathers, but their obligations to posterity.

Let all patriotic and civic organizations take advantage of the opportunity which the day affords to assemble the people and dedicate themselves anew to the responsibility of protecting and supporting the constitution and laws of the United States.

PROMINENT PIONEER DIES

THOMAS R. FOLEY, a prominent pioneer of this northern section, died at the age of 71 after a long illness, at his home in Aitkin. He was a former member of the legislature and prominent in the development of this section. He always retained an interest in Brainerd, having for years been a member of the Brainerd Elks lodge.

Mr. Foley came to Minnesota from Bangor, Maine, 45 years ago. He first took an interest in lumbering, later broadening to mining, farming and hotel property ownership.

At one time he owned what is now the village of Cuyuna on the Cuyuna iron range. He was also the owner of the land from which waters of Lake Eleanor flowed into the Milford mine. In 1913 he organized the community of Hassman, northeast of Aitkin. He was very active in the advancement of this section, taking charge of the first county exhibits at the state fair a quarter of a century ago. In addition to serving in the state legislature in 1890, he was a member of the Aitkin school board which was instrumental in building the present Aitkin school.

It is men like Mr. Foley who have aided to carve a commonwealth from the wilderness, who have reclaimed country, brought in settlers, and in every way assisted to build up this section. Quiet, studious, forceful nevertheless, Mr. Foley was a power in Central Minnesota. The good he has done will live after him.

LITTLE FALLS OPINION ON OUR PAVING

THERE are seven miles yet to be paved between Little Falls and Brainerd and if the weather clears the work can be completed this fall. It is to be hoped by those who have to travel this road that the contractors will see fit to first finish the gap between Barrows and Brainerd and if any work is left to be done next spring it will be the stretch between Lennox and Barrows.

South of Barrows the grade is in good shape and can be very nicely used as it is, but north of the mining village the grade is usually in a terrible condition. The new detour now being taken from a point at Crow Wing station is one of the best ever and a motorist can make the run from Little Falls to Brainerd in an hour easily. By taking this route the motorist has 22 miles of paving.—Little Falls Daily Transcript.

WHEN WE ARE ALL DRY

"The train may be crowded with delegates to the anti-prohibition convention, but they would mob the engineer who would take a drink while drawing his precious freight."

"The industrial magnate may talk critically of sumptuary laws, but he will apply them like a despot to the man who switches over the driving power of his vast establishment."

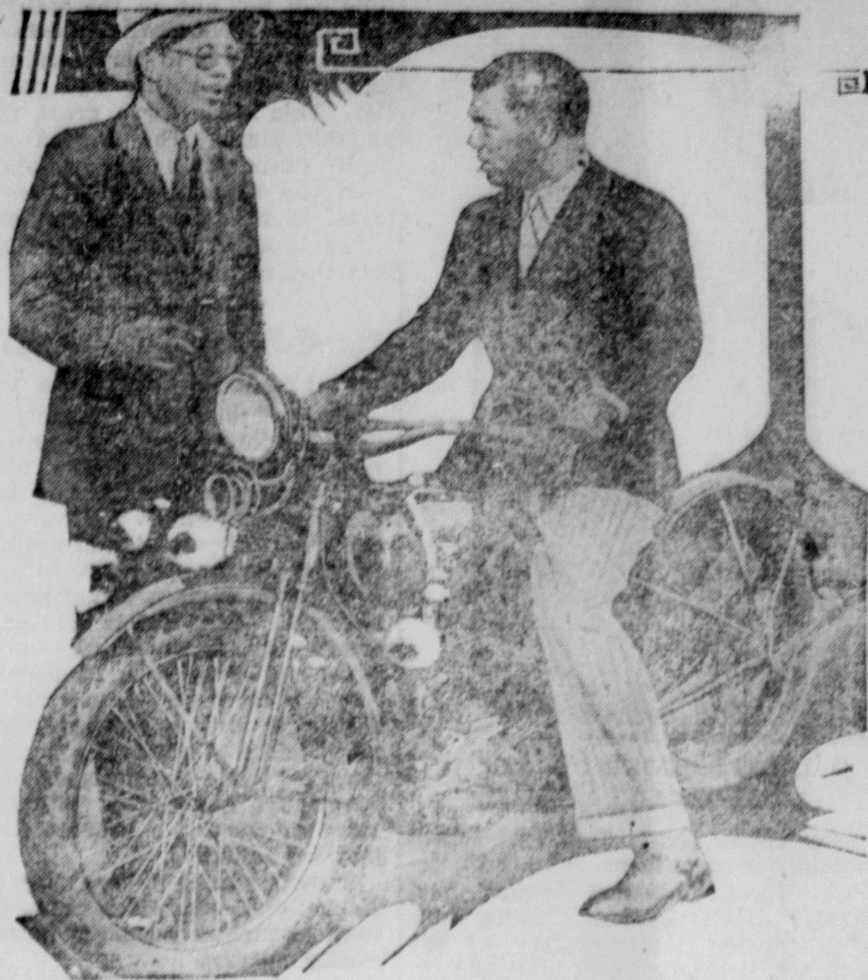

"When safety is involved, we are all drys."

THE Bemidji Dairy company will soon start a pasteurizing plant capable of treating 300 gallons of milk and cream hourly.

MAN, according to the Motley Mercury, appears to be the only animal that can be skinned more than once.

THE Pierz Commercial club is planning a big Community day to be held in the near future.

Malaria as Insanity Cure

Mosquitoes infected with malaria are to be imported into Hull, England, for treatment of patients in the mental hospital suffering from general paralysis. The mosquitoes will be obtained from one of the schools of tropical medicine and they will be allowed to bite patients and infect them with malaria.

It has been found that beneficial results have followed inoculation of patients suffering from general paralysis with malaria. The treatment was discovered by Doctor Jeunez of Vienna and was favorably commented upon by Doctor Lord, commissioner of the board of control. Hitherto one patient was infected with malaria so that others might be infected in turn by contact. General paralysis of the insane has up to now been incurable.

The late Oscar S. Straus was generous both with his money and his sympathies. He hated slander.

When the communist halted a moment to take breath Mr. Straus said to him calmly:

The enlisted personnel is entirely Filipino, but a number of American officers are in the service from the rank of colonel down to third lieutenant.

DAILY WORKOUTS FOR BIG TEN FOOTBALL TEAMS

SQUADS IN MORNING AND AFTERNOON HEAVY PRACTICE

WITH FIRST CLASSES, NEW RULING LIMITS PRACTICE TO TWO HOURS DAILY

By CLARK B. KELSEY

United Press Staff Correspondent

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Full daily workouts for each of the 10 teams in the Western conference planned by coaches for the next fortnight are under swing today. Until the opening of the universities the squads are to be allowed morning and afternoon workouts but with the first classes the new ruling limiting practice to two hours a day will go into effect.

Some 700 men who turned out yesterday were given suits and warming up exercises in the 10 grid camps. At Northwestern, Coach Glenn Thistlewaite put his men through signal practice in the morning and held a light scrimmage in the afternoon. At Purdue Coach Jimmy Phelan followed the same program.

At Michigan Coach Fielding Yost gave lessons in punting, side stepping, passing and running with the ball and followed this with a lecture on fundamentals. Captain Benny Friedman and "Bo" Molenda form the nucleus of his backfield and with his star ends back he spent most of his time looking for men to plumb the center of his line devastated from tackle to tackle by graduation.

Wisconsin sent 54 picked candidates through a drill in the rain and 14 of these, including Captain Doyle Harmon, were letter men.

At Illinois the backfield of Daugherty, a veteran, and Lanum, Timme and Peters, sophomores, about whom Coach Zuppke had indicated he will build his attack went through signals, after the little head coach had lined out his plans for the season.

At Ohio State, Coach Jack Wilce entered his 14th year with 60 Buckeye candidates to work on. Among the outstanding backs were Captain Marty Kacow, Elmer Marek, Bill Clark and Bill Hunt. Big Ed Hess, all American guard, was also on deck. The word has gone out that Wilce has been given just one year to produce another team that will rank way up in the conference and Ohio fans believe he has the material to do it this fall.

Nick Kutsch failed to report at Iowa in time to work out and "Bab" Cuhel, famous Hawkeye track man, was given the brunt of the ball carrying assignment. Captain Paul Smith worked at end despite an injured knee.

At Minnesota the first of the closed practice sessions was held. Captain Roger Wheeler at end was ill and unable to play. Herb Joesting, the big full back, and Shorty Alquist must remove conditions by taking examinations before they can play, it was announced.

At Indiana the practice was also secret, and Coach Pat Page announced that the field would be closed to spectators all season.

Fifty men reported and a score more are expected today and tomorrow.

At the University of Chicago Coach A. A. Stagg was confronted with 46 candidates. Captain Wally Marks and Stan Rouse of his last season's backfield were on hand and Ken Rouse of the line was ready. The rest of his team will have to be manufactured from rookies, the veteran mentor announced gloomily.

DOC SPEARS UPSETS FOOTBALL TRADITIONS

Minneapolis, Sept. 16.—(UP)—Dr. Clarence W. Spears continues to upset the traditional in University of Minnesota football training and plunged his greener material in scrimmage on the first day.

Among the 65 candidates who reported in uniform were 18 regulars. Only two veterans were absent, Leonard Walsh, guard, who was kept away by illness in his family, and Herman Drill, tackle, who will report later. The veterans went through signal drill.

Including two games with Michigan, the Gophers face a stiff schedule without an idle Saturday beginning with the North Dakota game October 2.

FIVE FULL TEAMS SEEK BERTHS AT WISCONSIN

Madison, Wis., Sept. 16.—(UP)—Five full teams of football players aspiring to berths on the University of Wisconsin eleven appeared on Randall field today, with each individual player trying to prove his worth to Coach George Little.

Fundamentals of the game were stressed by Little and his assistants in the open practice of the season yesterday.

A steady downpour of rain and a water soaked field did not hinder the practice.

"Now is the good time to practice picking up wet balls," Little declared, "we may need the experience this season." And with that he sent them at it.

Captain Doyle Harmon and other veterans appeared in good condition. Little is holding morning, afternoon and evening sessions with the candidates.

OPEN OR PROFESSIONAL TENNIS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 16.—Dreams of C. C. Pyle about the possibility of open or professional tennis in the United States will prove more of a nightmare to the officials of the United States Lawn Tennis association since Miss Mary K. Browne, former American champion, joined Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen under Pyle's management.

The thought behind the present deliberations of the association is not the immediate effect of the desertion of the amateur ranks by two such high ranking women players but the influence it will have on other stars, especially if Pyle's experiment proves a success.

"I have worked enough for tennis. Let tennis work some for me," Mlle. Lenglen said when she accepted the offer to turn professional. Miss Browne expressed the same feeling in almost the same words and if other high ranking players decide to let tennis contribute openly to their support, the big stadium at Forest Hills will have to be made available for open or professional tennis or it will almost have to have a curtain for movies.

When Pyle announced from Paris that he had signed a contract with Mlle. Lenglen, the association laughed it off. "Where will she play in the United States and against whom will she play?" they asked.

When Pyle added the announcement that he would recruit a whole team of players for an invasion of the United States, the idea was again ridiculed and a list of the high ranking players that he could not get was called.

But when the announcement followed that Miss Browne had decided to turn professional, official tennis was horrified and refused to comment. The intimation was offered that Miss Browne had been too close to the game, its officials and its best players to make any kind of a statement that might offend her.

Pyle started something when he got the idea that star tennis players in the professional field could make as much money for him and for themselves as Red Grange did on the football field. And it looks now as if Pyle will be able to finish what he started.

Amateur tennis in the United States can offend Mlle. Lenglen but it cannot offend Miss Browne because the tennis public thinks just as much, if not more, of Mary Browne than it thinks of the association.

If the attacks are carried too far on Mlle. Lenglen she may speak up and say some things right out loud about amateur tennis that have been whispered for years and that are becoming louder each year. Miss Browne might be able to say some things too but she is too much of a sportswoman to engage in controversy unless she is forced to do it in self-defense.

The association must have realized, after the handful of spectators who saw the woman's national championship and the final round of the Davis Cup eliminations between France and Japan that it is the player and not the game that attracts the ordinary citizen and it is the ordinary citizen who has to support the game in these big stadium days.

Miss Browne, in the reasons she gave for giving up amateur tennis, will be respected more than she ever has been before. She never has been anything out of tennis, directly or indirectly, and she has given much of her time to its promotion.

That is more than can be said of some of the members of the official family.

"I turned professional because I thought that there was too much hypocrisy in the amateur game and I tired of it," Miss Browne said.

In that statement is one whole of a big thought for tennis.

YANKEE STADIUM EXPECTED TO SEE START OF THE SERIES

CINCINNATI AND ST. LOUIS STILL AT HEAD OF NATIONAL LEAGUE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff correspondent)
New York, Sept. 16.—The world series should start at the Yankee Stadium here on October 2, with either Cincinnati or St. Louis facing the Yankees for the world championship.

At this late date, with the season 10 days from its end, it is impossible to guess at the outcome with fair chance of hitting the mark.

Cincinnati and St. Louis were still at the head of the National league today, only half a game apart and with both teams showing signs of being able to fight its way to the finish without weakening. There is no great choice between them, both pitching staffs are working in world series form and the batting and fielding of the teams leaves little to be desired.

The Cardinals showed their best form in beating the Phillies 9 to 2 in the first of their six games in Philadelphia yesterday. The Reds had much less trouble in disposing of the demoralized Brooklyn Robins, 7 to 2, but will be called on for their real work form today against the bean spilling Giants, while the Cardinals again meet the Phillies in a double header, giving them a good chance to regain the lead.

The Giants, while they have nothing to gain, are in a mood for upsetting apple carts as evidenced by their 6 to 5 defeat of the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday. It put the Pirates 3½ game behind the Reds and three behind the Cardinals. They still have a theoretical chance, but it would be an amazing upset.

The situation of the Cleveland Indians is more desperate than that of the Pirates. They dropped to 6½ games behind the Yanks when New York beat them yesterday, 6 to 4 in the first game of their six game series. The Yankees can clinch the pennant by taking four of the remaining five.

Where Willie Fell

The teacher was explaining the difference in meaning of certain words, and asked for sentences containing the words "thoughts" and "reverie." Little Willie volunteered, "I had several thoughts last night," he said. "That's correct," remarked the teacher encouragingly. "I give me a sentence with 'reverie' in it?" "The reverie blew his whistle and stopped the game," was the answer.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Shortstop Tommy Thevenow of the St. Louis Cardinals, whose two hits brought in five runs when St. Louis beat Philadelphia 9 to 2. By winning the Cardinals stayed just half a game behind the Cincinnati Reds in the National league standing.

Cincinnati, with Eppa Rixey pitching, beat Brooklyn 7 to 2. It was Rixey's second triumph over the Robins in three days. He blanked them Monday and yesterday's victory gave the league leaders a clean sweep of the series.

Unable to hit the pitching of Boston's hurlers, the Chicago Cubs dropped a doubleheader 1 to 0 and 3 to 1. The New York Giants, scoring four runs in the fourth inning after the Pirates had taken an early lead, beat Pittsburgh 6 to 5.

George Uhle, Cleveland pitcher, who was believed invincible against the Yankees, was driven from the mound by the New York Americans yesterday. They won the first game of the so-called crucial series 6 to 4.

The Chicago White Sox downed the Boston Red Sox on a muddy field 5 to 1.

Detroit and Washington divided a doubleheader. The Tigers won the first game 2 to 1 and Washington took the second 9 to 5.

Although breaking even in a doubleheader with the Blues, the Colonels gained a few points in the American association standings, when the Brewers, in second place, went down before the Indians. The Colonels took the first game 5 to 4 with Tinecup on the mound. In the second the Blues won 13 to 9.

The Brewers slipped in the sixth and the Indians took the lead, winning 7 to 1.

The Mudhens downed the Millers 4 to 3 in 10 innings.

The Saints took a doubleheader from the Senators, 13 to 6 and 7 to 4.

DUCKS PLENTY ON ALL DUCK PASSES OF COUNTY

HUNTERS BY HUNDREDS POUR-ING INTO BRAINERD FROM ALL SECTIONS

LAW PROVIDES LIMIT OF 12
DUCKS PER DAY, MANY MAKE THIS

With ducks reported aplenty on duck passes, marshes, rice beds, and rivers, hunters by the hundreds early this morning from Brainerd and all parts of the state hit the trail for their favorite hunting grounds to lie in wait for the daylight to come and their chance to bag their first ducks of the season.

Brainerd last night was stirred with excitement over the prospect of the opening of the duck season today in the state. Many hunters gathered in sporting goods stores, pool rooms and on the corners to talk over the prospects of the duck season, to relate previous years experiences in hunting ducks and even tell some "weird" stories of expert marksmanship.

Sporting goods stores had their rush hours yesterday and to accommodate the hunters many stores were kept busy to closing hours.

Anticipating a fine day today on account of the clearness of the sky last night hunters were a little disappointed this morning over the clouded skies and mist which hung over the waters preventing them from getting a bird's eye on the ducks. The weather also was unfavorable in that the ducks were hugging the water many in the middle of the lakes. It was necessary for the hunters to scare them into the air before being able to get a pot shot on them.

The temptation came strong to early hunters this morning who were at their hunting grounds before daylight and some as early as 3:30 a. m. when ducks swished by them, their wings almost flapping the duck boats. But the law states that no hunter is allowed to shoot ducks before 5:22 a. m. half an hour before sunrise until sunset. The fowl are protected from the nimrod's marksmanship during the night.

Over 1,000 resident small game licenses have been issued up to the opening of the duck season, it was reported this morning by Henry Krause, of the County Auditor's office.

A total of 376 licenses were issued yesterday and in order to accommodate the rush the office was kept open last evening until 9 o'clock when just previous to that time 50 licenses were issued.

The total number of licenses issued during the season which extends to December 31 usually figures around 2,000, Mr. Krause stated.

Mission and Johnson's gardens were favorite places this morning for hunting. The passes were almost black with ducks and likewise black with duckboats until the heavy fusillade of shots were fired with the coming of daylight. Ducks fell like leaden pellets to the waters and with no ducks in sight for the present were quickly taken from the waters to the duck boats either by the hunters themselves or their spaniels. Late this morning the ducks were reported to have come to the conclusion that the hunters were certainly on the job and that their only hope was getting as far away from them as possible. But where-ever they went they found hunters. The law provides the limit of 12 ducks for one day.

HEAVY RAINS KNOCK HOPES OF GOOD CROPS

Considerable Damage Done as Farmers Are Unable to Thrash Grain

GRAIN SHOCKS TURNING GREEN

Potatoes in Low Lands Will Also be Affected, Some Turning Soggy

Crow Wing county as well as other counties in the state affected in the same way is faced with a serious crisis in the harvesting of crops and unless the rainy season comes to an end in a very short time to enable the farmers to thresh their grain a heavy loss will be certain it is reported today by E. At the present time the farmers who have their grain in shocks will lose almost 50 percent of their harvest on account of delay in threshing. The grain in shocks is already beginning to turn green and sprouting, it is reported.

The farmers however who have been more fortunate in getting their grain in stacks will not be forced to meet such a great loss. However the tops of the stacks in many cases have already turned green, indicating a loss. Some farmers, pessimistic on the weather, have already started threshing their grain in the rain.

Farmers however are somewhat compensated by the fact that whatever the condition this year an exceptionally large crop is almost assured for next year as the rain so far this fall has been greater than for the last 20 years, it is reported. Farmers for the past few years have been troubled with the shortage of rain, and worried over the dryness of the lands and the fields. The rains however have given ample moisture to the grounds and the fields and it is stated that the moisture already given and what will be coming will be sufficient to carry the crops over next year even though the season be dry.

A long fall is hoped for by the farmers. The heavy rains will also have its effect on the haying. It is impossible to cure hay in this weather.

Potatoes grown in low lands are also becoming soggy but those on higher lands are unaffected it was also reported.

A telephone still hangs on the wall, dials are paid regularly and the name of the Rev. Whipple appears in each new issue of the directory.

LAST PAVILION DANCE

Hottest Music of Season Predicted When Girls Show Dancers How

Ruth Lewis and her Melody Maids who play tonight for the U. C. T. dance at Lum park, the closing of pavilion dancing at Lum park for the season is no ordinary orchestra.

Dance and music lovers of Brainerd and adjoining towns will be treated to a new sensation in dance music. The orchestra offers something new, jazzy but not clanky, an orchestra bubbling over with life, music appealing enough to make the most languid of dancers ambitious to become dancing professors and the best dancers feel in a seventh state of exuberance.

This lady orchestra have a long list of accomplishments tacked on to their title. They were headliners on three first class vaudeville circuits, the Orpheum, Keith and Pantages, and have played in their extensive travels over the country at many of the leading dance locations of the elite.

The pavilion is equipped with shutters so that in case of cold they can be closed and the pavilion made comfortable.

The dance is open to the public. Children and ladies without escort will not be admitted. Door rights are reserved.

BRAINERD LADIES BAND PRAISED

Mrs. Winnifred Cronk Ziebell Receives Laudatory Letter From State Fair Association

SECRETARY CANFIELD PLEASSED

R. P. Speer, Publicity Manager, Will Run Band Picture in "State Fair News"

Praises are still pouring in on the performances of the Brainerd Ladies band at the State Fair. Mrs. Winnifred Cronk Ziebell, manager of the band has received a letter from Thomas H. Canfield, the secretary and general manager of the State Fair association, which reads as follows:

"I want to tell you how well pleased we were with the Brainerd Ladies band during its engagement at the recent State Fair.

"The music was high class and well rendered, and many words of praise were heard for the fine programs played in front of the grandstand, in the Horse Show, and in various other appearances around the Fair grounds.

"This letter would be incomplete if the attractive blue and gold uniforms worn by the members of the band were not mentioned. Your band is indeed a splendid organization and I wish you unlimited success in the future."

A letter has also been received by D. D. Schrader from R. P. Speer, publicity manager of the Fair, and according to its contents the band will continue, for some time to come, to give Brainerd publicity through its recent performances at the Fair.

The letter reads in part: "I am sending to the H. Larson studio, 2708 East Lake street, Minneapolis, for the picture you allude to in your letter of Sept. 13 to Mr. Canfield, so we can have a cut made of it for use in a coming issue of our State Fair News. Our Fair News is a magazine that has about 10,000 circulation, and goes to a very influential and valuable mailing list in Minnesota, and I am sure that it will give you a tremendous amount of publicity.

"Should any other opportunity present itself to give the Brainerd Ladies band a boost, the publicity department of the Fair will do so, you may rest assured."

RUTH LEWIS AND MAIDS ARE HERE

Play For the Dance Tonight Given by U. C. T. at Lum Park Pavilion

LAST PAVILION DANCE

Hottest Music of Season Predicted When Girls Show Dancers How

Ruth Lewis and her Melody Maids who play tonight for the U. C. T. dance at Lum park, the closing of pavilion dancing at Lum park for the season is no ordinary orchestra.

Dance and music lovers of Brainerd and adjoining towns will be treated to a new sensation in dance music. The orchestra offers something new, jazzy but not clangy, an orchestra bubbling over with life, music appealing enough to make the most languid of dancers ambitious to become dancing professors and the best dancers feel in a seventh state of exuberance.

This lady orchestra have a long list of accomplishments tacked on to their title. They were headliners on three first class vaudeville circuits, the Orpheum, Keith and Pantages, and have played in their extensive travels over the country at many of the leading dance locations of the elite.

The pavilion is equipped with shutters so that in case of cold these can be closed and the pavilion made comfortable.

The dance is open to the public. Children and ladies without escort will not be admitted. Door rights are reserved.

BRAINERD LADIES BAND PRAISED

Mrs. Winnifred Cronk Ziebell Receives Laudatory Letter From State Fair Association

SECRETARY CANFIELD PLEASSED

R. P. Speer, Publicity Manager, Will Run Band Picture in "State Fair News"

Praises are still pouring in on the performances of the Brainerd Ladies band at the State Fair. Mrs. Winnifred Cronk Ziebell, manager of the band has received a letter from Thomas H. Canfield, the secretary and general manager of the State Fair association, which reads as follows:

"I want to tell you how well pleased we were with the Brainerd Ladies band during its engagement at the recent State Fair."

"The music was high class and well rendered, and many words of praise were heard for the fine programs played in front of the grandstand, in the Horse Show, and in various other appearances around the Fair grounds."

"This letter would be incomplete if the attractive blue and gold uniforms worn by the members of the band were not mentioned. Your band is indeed a splendid organization and I wish you unlimited success in the future."

A letter has also been received by D. D. Schrader from R. P. Speer, publicity manager of the Fair, and according to its contents the band will continue, for some time to come, to give Brainerd publicity through its recent performances at the Fair.

The letter reads in part: "I am sending to the H. Larson studio, 2708 East Lake street, Minneapolis, for the picture you allude to in your letter of Sept. 13 to Mr. Canfield, so we can have a cut made of it for use in a coming issue of our State Fair News. Our Fair News is a magazine that has about 10,000 circulation, and goes to a very influential and valuable mailing list in Minnesota, and I am sure that it will give you a tremendous amount of publicity."

"Should any other opportunity present itself to give the Brainerd Ladies band a boost, the publicity department of the Fair will do so, you may rest assured."

FUTURE OF LEGALIZED BOXING IN ILLINOIS

MADE UNCERTAIN BY REPORT
ED RESIGNATION OF O. W.
HUNCKE, CHAIRMAN

LATTER HAD WON RESPECT OF
MOST FOLLOWERS OF
RING SPORT

Chicago, Sept. 16. — (UP)—The future of legalized boxing in Illinois was made uncertain today by the reported resignation of O. W. Huncke, chairman of the recently formed state boxing commission on grounds, which are understood to include evidence of crooked gambling.

Huncke refused to confirm or deny reports of his resignation and the office of Governor Len Small at Springfield was likewise silent. From sources close to the state commission, however, the report was given considerable weight.

Proponents of legalized boxing in Illinois fear that the game will be thrown into confusion and turmoil which may result in its complete collapse if Huncke is relieved of his post.

Huncke was appointed chairman of the commission by Governor Small and had won the respect of most followers of the ring sport. A bright future had been predicted for boxing in Illinois, particularly in the Chicago district.

But this week Charley Phil Rosenberg was banished for life from the Illinois rings and his title of world's bantamweight champion was transferred to Bud Taylor of Terre Haute, the man he was to have met this evening to settle ownership of the title.

Disqualification of Rosenberg was decided upon according to Huncke's announcement Tuesday, because he had failed to post his $12,500 forfeit as required by the Illinois rules. But there have been persistent reports that the real difficulty lay in the fact that Huncke had learned of an alleged gamblers' plot to "make sure of Rosenberg's victory."

According to these rumors, which have been given added credence as a result of Huncke's retirement, gamblers were to have been stationed at the ringside to intimidate the referee, providing he had not been "reached" before the bout.

Chet Nichols, pitcher for the New Haven Eastern league team, has been sold to the Pittsburgh National league club.

Twelve hundred dollars a year was the top-notch salary for ball players in the early days of the National league.

"Cy" Young was in the major leagues for 22 years. Mathewson served 17. This is Walter Johnson's twentieth.

Jimmy Johnston, former star infielder with the Brooklyn Robins, was sold to the New York Giants by the Boston Braves.

Rube Bressler, Cincinnati's all-round player, is having a great season. The tube has been connecting at the plate in regular fashion.

Baseball in the colleges may be waning, as some think, but it remains a big attraction at Princeton university, second only to football.

The Columbus team is so far down in the American association race that when they lose a game it doesn't take anything off the percentage.

It is interesting that the new Harvard and Yale baseball captains are both third basemen, and that last year they were both left fielders.

Peculiar German Belief

To touch a pig on New Year's day is considered a good omen in Germany. For that reason a pig is liberated on the floor at many German parties at midnight on December 31, so the guests may put in an early bid for good luck.

LATEST NOTES FROM FIGHT CAMPS

ALL KINDS OF STORIES AFLOAT ON TRAINING AND OVER- TRAINING

Stroudsburg, Pa., Sept. 16. — (UP)—There was an air of apprehension in Stroudsburg today and those citizens who were planning a trip out to challenger Gene Tunney's headquarters to view his ring actions were not quite sure they would see him. Tunney yesterday disappointed a big crowd when he failed to appear for his expected workout.

Billy Gibson the heavyweight's manager, explained that Tunney is now so near his expected Dempsey bout weight that no chances can be taken. A too strenuous road jaunt yesterday brought Gene down so near 186 pounds that a session with his sparring partners was bound to cut the weight too fine. Hence the last minute change.

PRESS ADMITTED TO DEMPSEY WORKOUTS

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 16. — (UP)—No veil of seclusion will be hung over Jack Dempsey's training camp here to keep out the prying eyes of the public for the champion and his manager decided that the press may enjoy the freedom of the camp up to the last minute.

Today Dempsey planned to work out, but not too strenuously. His fighting tactics in the eight rounds he boxed yesterday indicated Dempsey was ready to fight Tunney any night now and content to take things easy.

GENERAL MARKET REMAINS FIRM
New York, Sept. 16. — (UP)—Having passed the period of the mid-month money arrangement which the bear crowd had counted upon to create unsettlement of the stock market, the general market showed less nervousness today and constructive operations were resumed in many sections of the list. Apprehension was observable in speculative quarters regarding an early increase in the local bank rate, but this feeling was somewhat relieved when a liberally supply of funds appeared in the call loan market and the demand rate dropped to 4½ per cent after holding at five per cent for several days.

For the most part, the market acted well particularly leaders like General Motors, Allied Chemical and Union Pacific and C. & O. in the rails. The market closed irregular.

Where Did She Get That Graceful Figure?

You remember her of course—not so long ago she was a regular scarecrow—skinny is a mild word for the way she looked.

Just look at her now—if ever a woman had a perfect figure she has it—she is the envy of half the girls in town.

It's nothing to get excited about—all she did was to take on weight—filled out the hollows in face, neck and chest—any skinny weak, run down women can do the same and gain a clean clear complexion at the same time.

Soon you will notice that they are growing smaller and the treatment should be continued until the veins are of normal size. FUTURE OF LEGALIZED BOXING IN ILLINOIS

MADE UNCERTAIN BY REPORT-
ED RESIGNATION OF O. W.
HUNCKE, CHAIRMAN

LATTER HAD WON RESPECT OF
MOST FOLLOWERS OF
RING SPORT

Chicago, Sept. 16. — (UP)—The future of legalized boxing in Illinois was made uncertain today by the reported resignation of O. W. Huncke, chairman of the recently formed state boxing commission on grounds, which are understood to include evidence of crooked gambling.

Huncke refused to confirm or deny reports of his resignation and the office of Governor Len Small at Springfield was likewise silent. From sources close to the state commission, however, the report was given considerable weight.

Proponents of legalized boxing in Illinois fear that the game will be thrown into confusion and turmoil which may result in its complete collapse if Huncke is relieved of his post.

Huncke was appointed chairman of the commission by Governor Small and had won the respect of most followers of the ring sport. A bright future had been predicted for boxing in Illinois, particularly in the Chicago district.

But this week Charley Phil Rosenberg was banished for life from the Illinois rings and his title of world's bantamweight champion was transferred to Bud Taylor of Terre Haute, the man he was to have met this evening to settle ownership of the title.

Disqualification of Rosenberg was decided upon according to Huncke's announcement Tuesday, because he had failed to post his $12,500 forfeit as required by the Illinois rules. But there have been persistent reports that the real difficulty lay in the fact that Huncke had learned of an alleged gamblers' plot to "make sure of Rosenberg's victory."

According to these rumors, which have been given added credence as a result of Huncke's retirement, gamblers were to have been stationed at the ringside to intimidate the referee providing he had not been "reached" before the bout.

Chet Nichols, pitcher for the New Haven Eastern league team, has been sold to the Pittsburgh National league club.

Twelve hundred dollars a year was the top-notch salary for ball players in the early days of the National league.

"Cy" Young was in the major leagues for 22 years. Mathewson served 17. This is Walter Johnson's twentieth.

Jimmy Johnston, former star infielder with the Brooklyn Robins, was sold to the New York Giants by the Boston Braves.

Rube Bressler, Cincinnati's all-round player, is having a great season. The Rube has been connecting at the plate in regular fashion.

Baseball in the colleges may be waning, as some think, but it remains a big attraction at Princeton university, second only to football.

The Columbus team is so far down in the American association race that when they lose a game it doesn't take anything off the percentage.

It is interesting that the new Harvard and Yale baseball captains are both third basemen, and that last year they were both left fielders.

Peculiar German Belief
To touch a pig on New Year's day is considered a good omen in Germany. For that reason a pig is liberated on the floor at many German parties at midnight on December 31, so the guests may put in an early bid for good luck.

LATEST NOTES FROM FIGHT CAMPS

ALL KINDS OF STORIES AFLOAT ON TRAINING AND OVER- TRAINING

Stroudsburg, Pa., Sept. 16. — (UP)—There was an air of apprehension in Stroudsburg today and those citizens who were planning a trip out to challenger Gene Tunney's headquarters to view his ring actions were not quite sure they would see him.

Tunney yesterday disappointed a big crowd when he failed to appear for his expected workout.

Billy Gibson the heavyweight's manager, explained that Tunney is now so near his expected Dempsey bout weight that no chances can be taken. A too strenuous road jaunt yesterday brought Gene down so near 186 pounds that a session with his sparring partners was bound to cut the weight too fine. Hence the last minute change.

PRESS ADMITTED TO DEMPSEY WORKOUTS

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 16. — (UP)—No veil of seclusion will be hung over Jack Dempsey's training camp here to keep out the prying eyes of the public for the champion and his manager decided that the press may enjoy the freedom of the camp up to the last minute.

Today Dempsey planned to work out, but not too strenuously. His fighting tactics in the eight rounds he boxed yesterday indicated Dempsey was ready to fight Tunney any night now and content to take things easy.

GENERAL MARKET REMAINS FIRM
New York, Sept. 16. — (UP)—Having passed the period of the mid-month money arrangement which the bear crowd had counted upon to create unsettlement of the stock market, the general market showed less nervousness today and constructive operations were resumed in many sections of the list. Apprehension was observable in speculative quarters regarding an early increase in the local bank rate, but this feeling was somewhat relieved when a liberally supply of funds appeared in the call loan market and the demand rate dropped to 4 1/2 per cent after holding at five per cent for several days.

For the most part, the market acted well particularly leaders like General Motors, Allied Chemical and Union Pacific and C. & O. in the rails.

The market closed irregular.

Where Did She Get That Graceful Figure?

You remember her of course—not so long ago she was a regular scarecrow—skinny is a mild word for the way she looked.

Just look at her now—if ever a woman had a perfect figure she has it—she is the envy of half the girls in town.

It's nothing to get excited about—all she did was to take on weight—filled out the hollows in face, neck and chest—any skinny weak, run down women can do the same and gain a clean clear complexion at the same time.

Just get 60 McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 60 cents at H. P. Dunn's, Johnson's Pharmacy or Economy Drug Co., or any druggist anywhere—Take 2 after each meal and two at bedtime and if any excessively thin woman, or man either for that matter, doesn't gain at least five pounds in 30 days! Why! Money back.

One very thin woman gained 10 pounds in 22 days. Ask for McCoy's.

How To Care For Varicose or Swollen Veins

Rub Gently and Upward Toward the Heart as Blood in Veins
Flows that Way

If you or any relative or friend is worried because of varicose veins, or bunches, the best advice that anyone in this world can give you is to ask your druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald

Oil (full strength) and apply as directed night and morning of the swollen, enlarged veins. Soon you will notice that they are growing smaller and the treatment should be continued until the veins are of normal size. So penetrating and powerful is Emerald Oil that even Piles are quickly relieved. H. P. Dunn sells lots of it.
